Wireless Innovation Everywhere

WireIE is an international wireless professional services company, specializing in the cradle-to-grave development of wireless networks. A provider of next generation transformation services to existing legacy networks; WireIE has the unique ability to bring wireless service to systems and remote locations that were considered previously inaccessible.

The service WireIE provides is often referred to as the "last mile technology." Through their product eWire, the Company is able to bridge the gap between the end of an existing system and a previously unserviceable site. Essentially bringing service to areas that were previously considered too remote (and costly), or geographically challenging, to lay fiber cable. Through eWire, data is transmitted via custom engineered radio "links" that send data through a secure platform that is not restricted by any geographical or environmental factors.

A second area of focus for WireIE is the building and operating of Smart Grid network technology. Smart Grids deliver electricity from suppliers to consumers using digital technology to save on energy consumption and costs. As more and more local electricity distributors add enhanced intelligence and control to their grids, WireIE builds and operates the communication system to connect the remote monitoring devices in the field to systems used to operate the local distribution networks.

A carbon-neutral company focused on harnessing and managing renewable energy resources to lower carbon emissions and meet corporate sustainability objectives, WireIE is truly a new breed of company. Based out of Richmond Hill Ontario and Barbados, WireIE services clients throughout the Caribbean, Latin America, Africa,
